NANKING, July 25. (AP)—The foreign office indicated today it had received telephonic advices from the acting charge d'affaires at the Chinese embassy at Moscow that the national flag had been hauled down from the embassy and that he and his staff had departed for Finland.

Foreign Minister Wang said that Chu Zao-Yang, who is Chinese minister to Finland, and also ready to act as charge d'affaires in Moscow, leaves Nanking July 27 for Moscow by way of Harbin. He will be armed with full powers to represent China in any negotiations.

Wang indicated any negotiations probably would be held in Moscow. He belittled reports that Soviet authorities had arrested a large number of Chinese at Gladovostok, also that Chinese authorities in Harbin had arrested many Russians in retaliation.

Dallas Police
Chief Charges
Framing Attempt

DALLAS, July 25. (AP)—Plainclothes policemen Mike F. Higgins and A. B. Farrow were out of work at least temporarily today pending a hearing on charges that they conspired to attempt "commpromising" their chief, Police Commissioner W. C. Graves.

The officers were suspended on a formal charge of insubordination. Their demand for a trial before the mayor and board of commissioners will be granted, Mr. Graves said.

The commissioner declared he had evidence that Higgins and Farrow, both with long records on the force, had imported a woman to invite Mr. Graves to a party for a "beer party," the policemen planning to break in and pounce upon their superior.

They denied the charge, declaring it was an effort to frame them and obtain their dismissal.

QUESTION JURORS CLOSELY IN CASE OF HAMMER SLAYER

FORMER UNIVERSITY PROFESSOR ON TRIAL FOR MURDER OF GIRL MISTRESS

COURT HOUSE, Columbus, Ohio, July 25. (AP)—The jury box in the trial of Dr. James H. Snook, confessed slayer of his young mistress, Theora K. Hix, was tentatively filled this afternoon.

The twelfth juror, Harold E. Brown, 28, confectioner, qualified at 2:15 p. m.

Selection of the thirteenth or alternate juror remained. Opposing counsel proceeded to issue preemptory challenges against tentative members of the panel.

COLUMBUS, O., July 25. (AP)—Exhaustive questioning of prospective jurors was resumed today as attorneys moved slowly toward impaneling the 12 persons who will decide the fate of Dr. James H. Snook, former Ohio state university professor, for the hammer murder of Theora Hix, 25, his co-ed mistress.

The eighth tentative juror was seated when both the state and defense accepted Elliott F. Rexford, 26, a chemical analyst, John F. Seidel, defense counsel, asked Rexford if the presence in court of the parents of Miss Hix would affect his decision, and when the talesmen answered in the negative the question was extended to include all the jurors.

A woman who said she was opposed to capital punishment was excused by Prosecutor John J. Chester, Jr. Four women tentatively seated on the jury said they had no objection to the death penalty.

Louis C. Davis, painting contractor, was seated tentatively as the ninth juror.

Mrs. Albert C. Brooks, wife of a retired farmer, and F. G. Mills, retired, were the tenth and eleventh jurors seated.

ROUSEL PLANE CRASH
ROUSEL, N. Y., July 25. (AP)—A clash between a steam roller and an airplane seems to have been a draw. The fuselage was battered and one wing smashed.

David Delasco Dean of Showmen, Is Young at 75

ATLANTIC CITY, July 25. (AP)—David Delasco, dean of Broadway theatrical producers, feels like a youngster of 21 today—his seventy-fifth birthday.

Although the thermometer in a backstage corridor of the Apollo theater, where his new play, "It's a Wise Child," is being tried out, registered 70 degrees, Mr. Delasco wore a black suit with a vest.

"Seventy-five degrees!" he exclaimed. "That is nothing at all. I feel like I was 21. I can run and jump and box. Just feel this air!"

The subject of his retirement brought a vigorous outburst from the man who says he is 75, but who is granted only 70 by "Who's Who."

"I shall retire when I am carried feet first out of the theatre," he said. "I expect to be working hard and producing plays when those who say I should retire have passed away."

PAPAL PONTIFF LEAVES VATICAN AMID CEREMONIES

MARKS FIRST PUBLIC APPEARANCE OF POPE SINCE 1870

VATICAN CITY, July 25. (AP)—Pope Plus XI, the first pontiff to emerge from the Vatican since the fall of temporal power in 1870, came out of St. Peter's Basilica this evening, marking an end to the long voluntary imprisonment of the head of the Roman Catholic church.

The pontiff, bearing the sacred host, followed by religious processions along the Bernini Colonnades and St. Peter's Square and blessed a huge throng which packed the historic place with unnumbered thousands.

The pope came out through the central bronze door of the Basilica at the end of a long procession which had been formed inside.

First came a small detachment of the Swiss Guard in the brilliant costumes designed for them by Michael Angelo nearly four centuries ago.

Then came a ceremonial officer of the papal court and a procession of various representatives of the religious orders, chaplains of various churches, various officials of the Holy See, archbishops and bishops including a number of American prelates.

In a blaze of purple came the cardinals while just ahead of the pope came the incense bearers and members of the ceremonial department.

The appearance of his Holiness was greeted with thunderous cries of "Viva il Papa" (long live the Pope) despite the injunction not to shout.

Handkerchiefs were waved, and the crowd applauded, but after the first burst of cheers the pope's appearance was greeted with silence.

ENDURANCE FLYERS IN FINE SPIRITS AND MOTOR SHOWS NO SIGNS OF QUITTING SOON

ST. LOUIS, July 25. (AP)—At 2:17 p. m. (C. S. T.) the St. Louis Robbin passed its 295th hour in the air and had exceeded the former record for sustained flight by two full days. The plane continued to circle leisurely over Lambert-St. Louis field.

ST. LOUIS, July 25. (AP)—Announcing in notes dropped this morning that "everything is fine" and the motor is "showing no signs of giving in," Dale (Red) Jackson and Forest O'Brien piloted their St. Louis Robin on into the thirtieth day of their endue flight above Lambert-St. Louis field today.

At 12:17 p. m. (C. S. T.) the fliers completed 298 hours in the air and had exceeded the former world's endurance mark by 48 hours or nearly two days.

O'Brien inquired in a message as to the progress being made by the Houston, Texas, endurance plane, "Billion Dollar City," now well up toward the 200 hour mark, and added:

"You know we can't land with them up; they might pass us, and that will never do."

"Our motor sure is feeling good this morning," wrote Jackson in a note addressed to P. V. (Shorty) Chaffee and C. Ray Wassal, refueling crew for the endurance plane. "Just like a race horse," he added. "It wants to run away every chance it gets; can hardly hold it down. O'Brien is singing his usual morning song. I'm sure in a fine place between the motor and O'Brien. Can't tell who makes the most noise but you can tell them apart as O'Brien has more vibration at high speed. I know now why the tail surface shakes."

Jackson gave a demonstration of his skill as a pilot while sending down the morning order for gasoline, oil and breakfast. The plane swooped low over the field and then climbed a bit in a double bank as the cylinder hearing the order fell a short distance from the flight headquarters tent.

Five Burned In Taxicab Blast In San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, July 25. (AP)—Five persons were in hospitals today suffering from burns, as a result of the explosion of a taxicab, following a collision.

The injured were: Fred Fest, city motorcycle policeman; Harold Owens; David Rodriguez; N. E. Todd, driver of the taxicab; Eddie Garza.

Todd's injuries, hospital attendants said, were serious.

The taxicab, another car, police said, collided at a street intersection, and the taxi turned over.

A small crowd gathered, and Motorcycle Officer Fest responded to a call.

Suddenly there was an explosion and burning gasoline was thrown over the office, the driver of the car and three bystanders.

Police advanced the theory that some one struck a match.

NAVAL DISARMAMENT AMONG NATIONS NATURAL STEP TO FOLLOW ANTI-WAR TREATIES

WASHINGTON, July 25. (AP)—Naval disarmament among the nations of the world is regarded by Frank B. Kellogg, former secretary of State, as a natural step to follow the general treaty for the reduction of war and one which has developed since it was accepted by nearly all of the nations of the world and I am entirely confident that it will be accepted by all of the nations.

Man Slaps Aged Mother and Judge Resented Action

CHICAGO, July 25. (AP)—John Marsh won't slap his 65-year-old mother again for at least 112 days. Judge Francis Allegritti has seen to that.

"He isn't bad judge," the grey, bent mother told her court. "It's just that he drinks. He didn't hurt me, much, but the neighbors had to call police. Please let him off, your honor. I'll straighten him out."

Judge Allegritti smiled kindly upon her. Then he whirled and in crisp tones addressed her 33-year-old son:

"You'll serve 112 days in the house of correction. I have no sympathy for a man who slaps his mother."

STATE TREASURER NEW CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR CHAIR

GREGORY HATCHER HAS ANNOUNCED CAMPAIGN TO START IN OCTOBER

DALLAS, July 25. (AP)—Gregory Hatcher, state treasurer today announced his candidacy for governor.

"In response to the urging of friends and admirers throughout Texas, and to what I believe to be a public necessity for someone to be elected to the office who is not afraid to speak out in the cause of the people—the great common head, if I may be pardoned for that—I hereby make public announcement of my candidacy as a candidate for governor subject to the 1930 democratic primaries," said Mr. Hatcher's prepared statement.

"It has been a rule of my life to strike at wrong, whenever and wherever I have seen it, and to defend right in the front line trenches and it may be that I can now best serve my maker and my state by making this fight from high places—that of course to be determined by the voters."

He said he would point out what he believed to be the issues of the campaign and his attitude on each but not until after completion of his year's work of grand patron of the grand chapter of Texas, order of the Eastern Star, Oct. 25, would he make an active campaign.

He intended to take his campaign first to "the boys at the docks of the creek" and then to the larger cities.

He did say, however, he believed reducing the cost of the government "is and ought to be the paramount issue."

If elected to governor I promise the people that it shall be lowered from $50,000,000 the cost for the past two years, to about $40,000,000, the amount spent under the administration of a saving of $10,000,000 compared with the past two years and fifteen to twenty millions if the program now contemplated goes into effect."

As an aid to such a program he promised reduction of the cost of running departments whose heads were appointed by the governor.

"Chain banking will be another issue in the campaign," he said. "I am opposed to it and will not appoint commissioner of banking any man who will feed the small banks of Texas to the chains! At the same time I will reduce the number of failures of state banks in Texas by at least half and the expense of running the state banking department by half."

WHEAT EMBARGO AT FT. WORTH ADMITTED BEING CONSIDERED

DALLAS, July 25. (AP)—Possibility of a wheat embargo at Fort Worth is admitted by R. C. Andrews, district manager of the car service division of the American Railway Association, but he sees a trend in the other direction.

Mr. Andrews said last night that although wheat accumulations there are "rather excessive," he did not foresee any immediate embargo.

Waited at Church

Charging that he backed out of their marriage five times, after she had prepared two trousseaus, Alma Pinkerton, above, pretty 24-year-old bookkeeper of St. Louis, has filed a $300,000 breach of promise suit against Max Manne, wealthy furniture manufacturer. She also alleges he re-proposed after the suit was filed.

STATE EVIDENCE IS INTRODUCED AT SANITY HEARING

WARDEN AND OTHERS AS SERT BELIEF LEAHY IS SANE AND NORMAL

GEORGETOWN, July 25. (AP)—After calling one witness, Mrs. J. R. Sullivan of Corpus Christi, sister of the defendant, the defense rested this morning, and a recess was granted state's attorney's that they might arrange their list of witnesses.

Mrs. Sullivan, who followed to the stand several witnesses of yesterday, testified regarding Leahy's condition, said that at the age of 20 the defendant suffered a severe case of fever and was delirious and highly nervous.

October of last year, she testified that she noticed a change had come over him and this had increased his nervousness.

On cross examination Mrs. Sullivan said her father and mother were old and very feeble and were unable to attend the trial.

After the recess, the state called as its first witness E. F. Harrell, warden of the penitentiary.

He testified he had known Leahy since February of this year and had talked with and observed him closely.

"In my opinion," he related, "he is sane, knows the consequences of murder and knows of his impending fate."

The warden testified that when he notified Leahy he would not be (Continued on Page 3.)

THREE MEN TAKEN, GREAT QUANTITY OF WHISKEY DESTROYED

NINE HUNDRED GALLONS OF WHISKEY AND 5,000 GAL-LONS OF MASH IN PLACE

One of the largest stills ever found in Navarro county and perhaps in the state, was captured late Wednesday night when Deputy Constable E. W. Warrnell and John Bass, in company with two federal agents, swooped down on a farmhouse about a mile south of Richland.

The still was of approximately 1000-gallon capacity, and was made of the best quality copper. About 900 gallons of whiskey was confiscated, 6000 gallons of mash destroyed and three men were taken in charge by the federal agents.

What appeared to be a big feeding shed with a sheet iron roof and concrete floor was the clever camouflage seen from the ground level, with a feed house occupying one corner, a switch side under a hydraulic elevator that gave access to the whiskey-making plant, making it possible to load the trucks from the level of a large underground chamber that housed the distillery.

The underground chamber was approximately ten feet deep, twenty-five feet wide and one hundred feet long. A small chamber, was cut off at one end and contained the ram for the elevator and some other equipment. Access was gained to the main working room thru a sliding door.

On one side of the room was a complete still, built of the best quality of materials, with ventilating shafts at intervals in the walls about the entire room. The remainder of the floor space on this side and the other sides was occupied by long rows of galvanized mash vats of 30-barrel capacity.

St. Louis Man Kills Self Just Before Arrest

ST. LOUIS, July 25. (AP)—Jack Garin, 29, former Little Rock, Ark., broker, shot and killed himself in a hotel room last night as police attempted to enter to arrest him on a charge preferred by a 17-year-old former beauty contest winner and chorus girl at the Garden theatre.

Fifteen minutes before the shooting, the girl, Miss Muriel Doherty, appeared at a police station with a tale of being lured into Garin's room, struck with a rolling pin, trussed to a bed and attacked.

She exhibited bruises to substantiate her statement of being struck on the head and marks on her wrists of adhesive tape. She told police Garin offered her money per hour on a shopping trip but instantly asked to go to his hotel room to receive a book.

Navarro County Man Is Granted Furlough

AUSTIN, July 25. (AP)—James C. Duke, convicted of criminal assault in Navarro county in 1924 and given a 25-year sentence, was allowed a furlough not to exceed 30 days in order that he might be taken to Houston for medical treatment.

J. E. Blum, serving a one-year sentence for violation of the prohibition law in Kaufman county, was given a thirty day furlough by Governor Moody that he might visit his wife, seriously ill at Terrell.

BOMB EXPLODED IN HEART CHICAGO'S BILLION-DOLLAR "LOOP" BUSINESS DISTRICT

CHICAGO, July 25. (AP)—The Loop, billion dollar heart of Chicago business, was rocked shortly before last midnight by a bomb explosion.

No one among the thousands of persons who were in the south end of the loop at the time was hurt, a circumstance which police regarded as miraculous, for glass rained from upper story windows for many minutes.

The bomb had been placed in an alley entrance of the Davis company department store, less than 35 feet from Jackson Boulevard, swarming with homebound motorists, and about midway between two loop arteries, Wabash avenue and State street.

Philip Zwanski, garbage collector, came upon the bomb, so neatly packaged he believed it to be a bundle someone had dropped. He picked it up and one end of it was warm. He thought it contained sandwiches, and he put it carefully back where he found it, and he told police, he decided to retrieve the package "before someone else did."

As he turned, the bomb exploded. Only a few minutes later a bomb exploded on 22nd street, between Michigan and Wabash avenues. Windows in the equitable trust company building on Michigan were broken, and 20 operators in the Calumet Exchange of the Illinois Bell Telephone company were momentarily panic-stricken.

There was no motive for either bombing apparent to police.

CHAMBER COMMERCE DIRECTORS NAMED TWO NEW MEMBERS

REPORT MADE ON INSPECTION TOUR OF WILDCAT FERRY ROUTE EAST TEXAS

Election of two new directors for the board of the Corsicana chamber of commerce, a report on the inspection tour of the wildcat ferry route to Palestine, and adoption of resolutions of respect on the death of J. L. Halbert occupied the regular bi-weekly meeting of the board Tuesday morning.

Reports of the special committee on resolutions of respect to the late J. L. Halbert unanimously adopted.

President C. L. Jester was authorized to renew the rental contract on the chamber headquarters, A. A. Allison and E. M. Polk were named as a committee to direct an educational campaign to encourage the proper registration of births, as a part of the campaign of the United States chamber of commerce.

Guy M. Gibson, member of the highway committee, reported on the inspection tour of the Wildcat Ferry route to Palestine from Corsicana made Monday in company with division and adjoining county engineers. He declared the engineers recommended that the road be entirely separate from federal highway No. 75, and that it extend directly from South Seventh street, crossing the lake at the Three-way filling station, and passing the T. & E. V. railway at a point about 300 feet south of the Three-way switch. The engineers, he asserted, were in favor of an underpass where possible. The only kink in the road, he said, was at Chambers creek, where a slight bend is necessary in order that the road may cross at right angle to the stream.

Recommend Quick Action

The engineers recommended that the local engineers complete their surveys and prepare plans and specifications on the road at once, and stated that they would recommend that the state participate from this time forward. The line from Chambers creek to the connection with the Palestine highway will be held up until it is determined that no crossing is available south of Wildcat Ferry which would keep the road in a straighter line.

Mr. Gibson stated that he believed that the officials and others should see to it that the city share in the additional cost of filling in the roadbed across the lake property, which was made necessary when the city announced that they contemplated raising their dam and impounding more water within a few years, and requested that the grade be raised eight feet.

President Jester stated that it was his idea that the surveys on the alternate road to Oak Valley, Chaneyboro, and Black Hills, should be completed now, and end all of the surveying that would be needed. This gave rise to a general discussion of the amounts spent by the county for engineering and a number of the directors asserted that the amounts had been too large.

It was announced that Ted B. Ferguson would be a member of the Texas educational tour which will leave on August 11, and he was asked to represent Corsicana on the trip. He was also added to the dairy committee of the chamber.

No Action on Cotton Matter

A discussion of the cotton marketing situation was then opened. President Jester stated that he had been informed that the local market had lost at least 5,000 bales of cotton last year because of the fifty-cent "exchange fee" charged by local buyers. He announced that a committee had been named to study the situation and make recommendations. Representatives of the banks present stated that the situation grew out of the fact that the shippers had refused to pay the exchange. Considerable discussion followed but no definite action was taken.

Two new directors were named to fill the vacancies caused by the deaths of J. L. Halbert and W. H. Hastings. J. N. Cerf was unanimously elected on motion of J. N. Edens, and Joe B. Fortson was elected to complete the board after his name was presented by W. P. McCammon.

Among those present at the meeting were Lowry Martin, Guy M. Gibson, Sydney Marks, W. F. Cammon, Beauford H. Jester, I. N. Cerf, Ted Ferguson, W. P. Brown, A. G. Elliott, J. E. Butler, Senator J. H. Woods, W. Roy Christian, C. L. Jester, J. N. Edens, and A. A. Allison.

The report of the resolutions committee on Mr. J. L. Halbert follows:

Judge C. L. Jester, president of the chamber of commerce, city of Corsicana:

In the early morning of Monday, July 1st, 1929, our long time friend and fellow member, J. L. Halbert, was called by death to his long home. Born in the city of Corsicana, his life had been for years a part of the history and development of our city and county, and his death comes to us as a truly personal loss.

For a number of years, our fellow member, J. L. Halbert, had been one of the foremost active members of the chamber of commerce. He had thus become familiar with the purposes and services of the chamber of commerce in all of its principal undertakings dealing with the welfare and development of the city and county. His life was an active one in many ways, and his fellow members found him always ready and a constant supporter of all well matured measures dealing with the welfare and progress of the city and county. In the many improvements in city and county in the last quarter of a century, he has felt an interest and had a part.

One of the years past he has had an active and public part in the work of the chamber looking to an improved county-wide system of public roads. His counsel and efforts in highway matters were of particular value to the organization in its endeavor for a modern system of highways for the community, and as chairman of the citizens' committee it was under his leadership that the constructive program for this district was adopted.

An associate chairman and as chairman of the agricultural committee his work with the committee was noticeable and of great practical value. He was particularly interested in this work and did much to advance the welfare of those interested in the various lines of agriculture and stock raising.

Running through all his labors was a strong and earnest spirit of helpfulness and of sincere endeavor for the good of his fellow man. And his spirit and influence have been widely felt for good.

His presence, counsel and help will be sadly missed by the chamber of commerce and his fellow members.

We beg to extend to his dear wife and children, as to his relatives as well, our most true and sincere sympathy in the great loss and grief suffered in his death.

A copy hereof shall be recorded in the records of the chamber of commerce. A copy shall be sent to his family by the secretary, and a copy shall be given to the Daily Sun for publication.

Respectfully submitted,
J. H. Woods, Chairman,
F. N. DRANE,
J. S. MURCHISON,
Committee

PALACE THEATRE OFFERS NOVELTIES DURING AUGUST

"APPRECIATION MONTH" TO PRESENT NINE BIG PICTURES

With a series of nine feature pictures scheduled beside a number of unique feature, the month of August has been proclaimed as "Appreciation Month," by the Palace Theatre, Manager Leslie Wilkes announced Friday. A series of novel stunts have been included in the plans for that period.

In addition to this puzzle, the double page advertisement setting forth the details of the program for the month appearing elsewhere in this edition of the paper are 12 misspelled words, and the letters omitted spell a word; to the first 2555 who present the correct solution to the puzzle at the box office to the Palace, a free ticket will be given, Mr. Wilkes stated.

In addition to this puzzle, with each adult admission purchased during the period from July 28 to August 28 a coupon will be presented, each coupon bearing a number. To each person presenting a complete series of the coupons, numbered consecutively from 1-9, at the theatre box office a ticket to the "Man of the Moment" will be given. This picture starts on July 29.

The reason for staging "Appreciation Month," according to Manager Wilkes is to show in some definite way the sincere appreciation of the management for the support which the people of Corsicana and Navarro county have given the theatre since the installation of Vitaphone and Movie-tone equipment in February, and the more recent installation of the washed-air cooling system. He stated that the best possible way in which the show could really demonstrate its appreciation was to present a number of the best pictures produced by the leading companies of America.

Every effort is being made to make this a banner month for the people of this section of the country, and a very pleasing array of pictures has been arranged.

The following is the month's presentation:

28-31—"The Rainbow Man."
August 1-3—"The Wheel of Life."
August 4-7—"Dangerous Curves"
August 8-10—"The Showboat"
August 11-14—"The Showboat"
August 15-17—"High Voltage"
August 18-21—"Trial of Mary Dugan"
August 22-24—"A Dangerous Woman"
August 25-28—"River of Romance"
August 29-31—"Man of the Moment"

TENTATIVE PLANS MADE FOR ROOMS SUPREME COURT

CURETON IS SLIGHTLY DUBIOUS OF OUTCOME SPECIAL ELECTION

AUSTIN, July 24.—(AP)—Although the returns will not be officially canvassed until Aug. 26, about 50 counties who report the results of the special election of July 16 on the two proposed amendments to the constitution.

Slightly dubious about the outcome of the voting in view of the apparently meagre returns gathered by the newspapers, Chief Justice C. M. Cureton of the supreme court has made only tentative plans in the court chamber to seat the six additional members who would be created by one of the amendments.

"I do not want to let the actual contract for rearrangement of the room until something more definite is available," he said.

Two to one bets were placed here yesterday that when all returns are in the amendments will have been defeated.

The other amendment raised the governor's salary from $4,000 to $10,000 annually.

SMUGGLERS LOSE IN BATTLE WITH BORDER PATROLMEN

EL PASO, July 23. (AP)—Two Mexican rum runners are believed to have been killed and three are known to have been wounded in a pitched battle here last night between four immigration border patrol officers and a band of more than 20 smugglers.

The clash was a sequel to an engagement last Saturday when six border patrolmen were ambushed by rum runners and Patrolman Ivan E. Scotten was killed.

None of the Americans was wounded in last night's battle in which several hundred shots were fired. The banks of the Rio Grande were searched today for the bodies of the two rum runners believed to have been killed. The wounded smugglers were carried across the river into Mexico by their comrades.

Exposure Threatened.
H. C. Horseley, chief of the border patrol, said prominent citizens of El Paso were expected to be implicated in a gigantic border rum ring following disclosures made by negro truck driver, one of five men captured by the patrolmen. For months authorities have been watching certain El Paso business men, Horseley said, but had obtained no direct evidence until today.

Horseley announced a truck seized during the battle belonged to an El Paso firm and that it was loaded with 150 gallons of liquor. Three other automobiles also were confiscated. The cars, all of expensive make, will be used as evidence against the business men participating in the rum running game, Horseley stated.

The rum runners have been unusually active at the border during the last week. In the ambush Saturday the patrolmen succeeded in driving off their assailants only after Scotten had been slain.

The raid last night occurred following a carefully planned ruse on the part of the immigration officials, who have been co-operating with customs officers in seeking to stop liquor smuggling, and a day of vigilance from high points of vantage within the city with spy glasses.

Descending upon the rum runners in speeding automobiles, the patrolmen mounted a fence near the Rio Grande. They were met with a fusillade of bullets from the rum runners' rifles. The fire was returned, and two of the smugglers were seen to fall to the ground. It was believed these two men were killed.

Alleged Chief Named.
The negro gave authorities the name of the alleged chief of the rum runners' ring. Horseley said he had learned today the truck taken in the battle belonged to a local wholesale paper house and was stolen by a former employee, now believed to be one of the "higher ups" in the rum gang.

The battle and seizure were the result of well laid plans of the border immigration patrol. The patrolmen made several unsuccessful efforts to capture the truck on other occasions. Swooping down on the river at dusk the patrolmen used a high fence as breastwork when the smugglers opened fire.

The embargo raised the heat of the battle, with hundreds of rounds of ammunition fired by both sides. The patrolmen ceased firing only when the smugglers had been driven across the river.

A Juárez ambulance made three trips to the Mexican side of the battle field, although Liberty his-

MID-WEST SUFFERS FROM HEAT, LITTLE RELIEF PROMISED

CHICAGO, July 25.—(AP)—The Middle West steamed yesterday with the rest of the country in torrid temperatures and excessive humidity. Government forecasters predicted even higher temperatures today.

Occasional thunderstorms and showers served only to increase the humidity already oppressive. Chicago, which had experienced relief when lake breezes pushed the temperature down 20 degrees in a short time Tuesday, found no coolness of short duration and sweltered again under a 91 degree temperature. Beaches were crowded to capacity.

Milwaukee recorded 92 degrees, while Wisconsin sizzled. Two deaths were reported in both that state and two in Illinois.

The hottest spot in the country was Phoenix, Ariz., where 106 degrees was recorded.

pital in Juarez reported no wounded had been received there.

Following on the heels of the pitched battle Monday, border patrolmen today continued their offensive by capturing three Mexicans and a truck loaded with liquor. The cargo was destined for Denver.

The Mexicans told authorities that when the battle was at its height last night, eleven men went from Juarez to reinforce the 20 men who were attacking the Americans.

C. F. Stringer of the Drane community was a Corsicana visitor Wednesday.

Fields of hay consisting mostly of weeds can be put in the silo, since green state or as hay usually are eaten as silage. Too, weeds may be stacked in the pasture before it has cured well. It will make a fine hay that will be valuable supplement to short pastures.

Pointers For The Efficient Farmer

(By U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.) Most cows produce a rest of from four to six weeks between lactation periods. High-producing cows need eight weeks.

Cucumbers for market should not be cleaned with a cloth or brush, as this destroys the small spines and the "frosty" finish of fresh cucumbers. The best way to wash off dirt is to put the cucumbers in clean cold water and stir them slightly.

Special care should be taken at this time of year with milk and cream that is shipped from the farm. Milk stands at the roadside should be shaded, and cans of milk hauled in trucks or wagons should be covered with canvas. Heavy jackets for milk cans add considerably in keeping milk cold.

The summer silo usually is the best means of supplementing short, dried-up pastures in July and August. For a herd of 12 to 20 cows, a silo from 10 to 20 feet in diameter is well suited, as the silage can be fed fast enough to prevent spoiling. Silage will keep for several

CORSICANA, TEX., JULY 26, 1929
BILL HASTINGS.

Wm. H. Hastings is dead.
Again the Grim Reaper enters the ranks of Corsi-cana's civic leaders and takes toll.

He will be greatly missed
by many. His co-workers at the Magnolia Refinery are heart broken. As one expressed his feeling: "I have lost my best friend." Those who worked with Mr. Hastings probably knew him best and this one man no doubt reflected the sentiment of the entire personnel of the refinery with the remark:
"I have lost my best friend."
No greater epitaph can be written for any man than FRIEND.

Many more of us have lost a true friend in the passing of Mr. Hastings. He took an active part in the civic,
social, business and religious life of Corsicana. When any project was presented whereby Corsicana as a whole would be benefited
Mr. Hastings could always be found in the front line doing his part and a little bit more. He was an enthusiastic and ardent worker. To any project with which he became aligned, and they were many, he gave wholeheartedly of his time, effort and finances. Mr. Hastings was not the type of man to do things by halves.

Patriotism, loyalty, love of God and faith in his fellowman sum up Mr. Hastings' chief characteristics.

A loving and thoughtful husband and father has gone to his reward.

Bill Hastings will be greatly missed from the daily life of Corsicana and it will be many years before one can be found to take his place.

ON OUR WAY.

The most striking feature of long-distance airplane flights is the greater degree of caution exercised and, in most instances, a certain contributory purpose to the progress of useful aviation.
It would be too much to say that the phase of heroic recklessness is done with,
but its examples are becoming less frequent, and in doing so nothing detracts from that noble daring which needs must pioneer in every new field, nor from continuing boldness which carries on a still perilous task; in no field of human endeavor has
the spirit of sacrifice been more spectacular and more brave than in aviation.

The fact remains that the Atlantic has been crossed several times. There is now an air of relative certainty attaching to such flights, and a diminished anxiety in the public mind. Mechanical features have been developed, construction improved in response to needs.
Vital information is more readily obtained and more successfully distributed. Remote places are more alert and resourceful in furthering such adventures or in providing aids. Pilots have more experience, not only the fruits of their own exploits but the lessons plucked by others out of the wilful skies. More is known of the vagaries of Atlantic weather, and the treacheries of it can be matched more probably by human forethought and patience.

Almost it seems that so far from being surprised when an airplane reaches its distant goal, we would be surprised if it didn't.

It is an interesting gift to the people of this age, whose memory can span the first important flights and the contemporary age of skillful,
testing experiments and who, if they live only a reasonable number of added years, may witness the consistent fulfillment of man's proudest achievement.

Each week sees a substantial increase in building permits. The million mark is expected to be passed before the year is out.

THE PRESS AND THE JUDICIARY.

In the prosecution of the editor and chief editorial writer of the Cleveland Press for contempt of court arising from published criticism of an injunction, purporting to restrain the sheriff of Cuyahoga county from interfering with certain race track operations, are involved grave issues affecting the freedom of the press and the rights of the public. These issues must be decided on appeal from the decision of the judge who found the defendants guilty and sentenced them.

Freedom of the press in dealing with the administration of justice has its reasonable limitations. It has been pretty clearly established that publications calculated or likely to influence the decision of a pending case are contemptuous and therefore outlawed. Such publications are obstructive to orderly processes and inimical to the public interest. But the powers of the courts to maintain their dignity and claim to popular respect do not extend to the suppression of criticism of completed acts,
and the doings of members of the judiciary, as of other public officers, are legitimately subject to public examination.

In the Cleveland case the cause upon which comment
was made was not longer pending, and the action of the judge in determining whether or not an injunction should be granted could not be influenced thereby. The issue is whether the comment of the newspaper was justified by the facts and made in good faith; and it will require action by a higher court to determine whether such an issue, in these circumstances, could be decided by the sitting judge in a citation for contempt.

The right of the press to assay the acts of the judiciary is fundamental, and cannot be abridged. The right must be exercised within lawful bounds, preserving the administration of justice from duress or interference.
It is important that both judges and newspapers shall understand their privileges and immunities, and the appeal from the Cleveland contempt case should add meas-urably to the body of precedent that defines proper newspaper functions in shaping public opinion of judicial procedure.

BETTER RETAIN FREE
SPEECH.

Senator Bingham, of Connecticut, is proposing an amendment to the Constitution by which the congressional privilege of legal irresponsibility for anything that may be said on the floor will be abrogated. He hopes in this manner to improve the level of courtesy in both houses.

It is greatly to be doubted whether the people of 36 states care enough about this matter to attempt to make members of congress gentlemen by constitutional amendment. After all, the acquisition of notoriety by calling names and attacking reputations has been so long indulged in by a few members of every congress that few people take it seriously.
Such conduct reveals a lack of breeding or of self-control, and it is so regarded.

Free speech in congress is of greater value to the nation than would be the curtailment of abuse by a self-seeking vulgar few.

GOOD CROPS.

It will take an unforeseen calamity to prevent Navarro county from making a big cotton crop this season. All agree that crops in every section of the county never offered more promise and all lines of business are preparing for an unusually active fall and winter. The West Texas farmer made a killing with his wheat crop
this year and present indications are that the black land belt cotton farmer will be just as fortunate.

The south end of Main street will take on new life and activity with the occupancy of the Lyman T. Davis building and the completion of the remodeling of the postoffice. Both buildings would be a credit to any city and further emphasize the growth and prosperity of Corsicana.

EVOLUTION OF THE DOCTOR.

"What become of all the doctors" is an expression that in recent years has become quite as common as the query, "What becomes of all the pins?"

Year after year a cry for medical help comes from many rural communities, because of a real scarcity of physicians. The old-time country doctor whose faithful old Dobbin drew the buggy or the cutter into remote and isolated places at all times of the night and under all climatic conditions, and who was ever ready to respond to the call of the suffering, has vanished completely. In his place is the physician whose office and visiting hours are short and rigidly observed and who discourages night calls, frequently refusing to respond to them.

It is a mistake to assume from the paucity of rural doctors that the profession is less popular with young Americans and that the mat-riculations in medical schools are falling off. The fact is that there are more medical schools and students than ever, the eighty medical schools in the country having an enrollment of 18,690 men and 964 women this year.

The shortage of doctors is felt only in rural sections. In the cities there is a surplus, if anything. Apparently men and women hanging
out their medical shingles
today consider the city a better and more profitable field.

There is another trend
that is drawing doctors
away from sparsely settled sections. It is the trend toward specialization in medicine. A large percentage of those leaving medical schools each year will specialize in some branch of the science instead of entering the general practice of medicine. The reasons why the specialist cannot establish himself in the rural community are obvious.

BUCK PASSING.

Buck passing is the old army game but in civilian life
this great American pastime is just as popular. The buck is probably passed to the daily newspaper with greater regularity than to any other one organization.
Someone says something that does not sound so good
when read in cold type.
Then comes the "misquoted" and "misleading" alibi. Legitimate newspapers of today rarely misquote people.
Whenever such an error does occur the publication is more than anxious to make a correction. But the alleged
"misquoted" seldom demand corrections. Why—we would not attempt to explain. The reporters know but all you can get out of these boys that chase the news is an understanding smile when queried on the subject. It's a great game—keep it going —pass the buck to the newspapers—they know what to do with it.

As the Town Crab points out, the girls who are now going without stockings
don't seem to have a y more spare time in which to darn their husband's socks.

The one crop gamble is far too great a risk. Dairy farming will reduce the hazard and there is no greater aid to diversification than a county fair.

An efficiency problem
which is bothering Fisherman Hoover is the long interval between bites.

Farm Relief Act
Boosts Farmers
Borrowing Power

BY FRANK I. WELLER.
(Associated Press Farm Editor.)

WASHINGTON—By virtue of the farm relief act the producer of an agricultural commodity can get 20 per cent more of the value of his crop when he turns it over to the co-operative through which he sells.

Heretofore a co-operative has been able to borrow from federal intermediate banks only 60 to 65 per cent of the value of the commodity it acquires. Thus a farmer selling wheat when the market was $1 a bushel was said 60 to 65 cents on the dollar.

He had to wait until his co-operative or pool passed the grain on to collect the balance. Many pool members were unable to meet their obligations at that figure and were obliged to withdraw.

Now the co-operative can borrow 85 per cent of the commodity's value, 60 or 65 per cent from the federal banks and the remainder from the revolving fund created by congress for the use of the farm board.

The farmer's borrowing power is further enhanced by the provision that a co-operative, on authority of the federal farm board, may draw from the revolving fund a sum equal to 80 per cent of the cost of construction of storage facilities.
Heretofore a co-operative has been unable to borrow money from the government on its physical properties.

Nor does the advantage stop there. If the board recognizes a co-operative's need for storage facilities on establishments already constructed the co-operative may borrow 80 per cent of the purchase price in acquiring title.

Furthermore, a stabilization corporation set up to handle a commodity for a group of co-operatives may convince the board that in sound economics the crop is worth more than it is selling for on the market.

It may borrow 85 per cent of the value of that portion of the commodity it proposes to handle on the increased quotations and bid for it the open market. The effect is expected to put confidence in the banker.

TABLES TURN AFTER
15 YEARS TROUBLES

"Sargon turned the tables for me
after I had tried for 15 years to get well of stomach trouble. Now I am gaining every day. I went from 119 pounds to 130 pounds—a gain of 11 pounds in three weeks on just
three bottles.
That's pretty
good for a man
62 years old."

"I suffered day
and night for almost 15 years
and spent many
hard earned dollars for medicines, but none
of them reached
my case until I got Sargon. I felt weak and
sick from morning
until night. I would just drag
myself around but
now I feel years
younger and can
keep going all day.
I eat anything
I want and have
no trace of stomach trouble, headaches or dizzy
spells any more."

"The Sargon Soft Mass Pills
straightened out my life and I no longer suffer from biliousness and constipation. It sure is great to be feeling like my old self again and I will always praise the Sargon treatment. There never was any medicine equal to it."

PECAN INDUSTRY OF
TEXAS DISCUSSED AT MEETING OF ROTARY

SUPERINTENDENT CLEBURNE
SCHOOLS PRINCIPAL SPEAK-ER WEDNESDAY

Emmett Brown, superintendent of the Cleburne public schools, was the main speaker at the regular weekly luncheon-meeting of the Rotary Club Wednesday noon at the Navarro Hotel, using as the subject of a very interesting talk, the pecan industry in Texas, its possibilities and care of trees. Billy Mack, tap dancer extraordinary, now appearing at the Ideal Theatre, appeared before the club and danced several numbers.

Visitors at the meeting were W.
A. Tarver, chairman of the State Insurance Commission, a member of the Corsicana Rotary club before moving to Austin two months ago to assume his new duties; J. H.
Tarver, of Dallas, and County Judge H. Clay Nash.

The speaker was introduced by Robert Cooksey, local nursery owner, with whom Mr. Brown is staying for several days, inspecting the pecan groves in Navarro county.

In his introductory remarks the speaker stated that to most people's minds the word "nuts" was the same as pecans, but for a short time he wished to talk about another kind of "nut." It is the "nut" that makes the world move on; we might call them "cranks."
The United States owes a great deal to three presidents who were dubbed "nuts" or "cranks" by their opponents; these were Grover Cleveland, Theodore Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson. Mr. Brown declared.

Turning to the subject of the pecan industry, the speaker declared that Texas has latent possibilities of being the greatest pecan producing state in the nation, but at the present the value of the crop is comparatively small. Most people are immune from the idea that plants need certain cultivation as do animals and will respond to treatment as quickly as do livestock, he continued.

"In my short tour of Navarro county this morning, I firmly believe there are enough native trees to make this county a great pecan producing center," Mr. Brown stated.

"I am particularly interested in giving the native trees a chance,"
the speaker declared, and continued, saying: "This can be done by clearing out around the trees and by careful cultivation they can be made to pay great profits. In this connection, the speaker cited numerous instances where the native trees on tracts of land had been properly cared for and the profits derived from them by the owners.

As surely as the success of an operation depend largely on the treatment given after the operation, so does the success of the pecan industry depend on the after care which pays the greatest dividends, Mr. Brown declared.

Industry Comparatively New.
The pecan industry is a comparatively new one, the speaker stated, and this perhaps is the reason why a large number of people once enthused with the idea of pecan raising on a large scale have had their hopes shattered. In the first instances of pecan growing projects, there were no government experiment stations in Texas, or nurseries to raise the type of pecans particularly suited to the climate of that vicinity, and the trees were imported from Mississippi Valley where the rainfall was greater and as a result, the trees either died or led a rather precarious existence, Mr. Brown stated.

In conclusion, the speaker stated that it was his hope the next time he came to Navarro county that the native trees would be giving great returns to their owners.

At the conclusion of the program committee announced for next Wednesday by Ted B. Ferguson, president, was Roy Christian, Harry Clowe and Dr. R. C. Curtis.

OIL CITY IRON WORKS

ATTEMPTED JAIL
BREAK FRUSTRATED
BY LOCAL SHERIFF

With the departure of Sheriff
Rufus Pevehouse for Huntsville by Loyd Davidson, under two sentences of 99 years for the slay-ing of his father and step-mother, the details of an attempted jailbreak were revealed.

In some manner several hack-saws, a saw holder, and a crowbar were slipped into the cells by friends of some of the prisoners, and they had succeeded in sawing through a number of bars, and made all preparations for a break for freedom when the opportunity offered.

The plan was foiled when Mrs.
Rufus Pevehouse heard the whine of the saw one evening and notified her husband, who immediatly moved the prisoners in that tier, many of them wanted in several counties and states, to the third floor for safer keeping.

All of the rivets had been saw-

As Cause Death
of Man and Wife

SAN ANGELO, July 23.—(AP)— Jealousy over her husband's supposed attentions to other women was blamed by officers here today for the death last night of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hourahan of Dallas. Pe-lice said Mrs. Hourahan shot her husband and turned the gun on herself. The husband apparently died at once, but Mrs. Hourahan lived, until she reached the hospital. Very little is known about the Hourahans here as they had been here only ten days. The shooting took place at their hotel room.

ed off a steel enclosure about a shower bath so that entrance could be secured to the run-around. Then, the bars over one of the windows had been cut almost through, and a swivel was found in one of the bunks to be used in removing the bars.

The necessary repairs have already been authorized by the commissioners court.

Approximately four thousand persons attended Wednesday. The chief speaker of the day was Congressman Claude Hudspeth of El Paso. All old officers of the association were re-elected. They are W. W. Nipper of Brackettville, president; J. E. Robbins of Camp Wood, first vice president; Sam Cooper of Leakey, second vice president, and Arthur Davis of Rio Frio, secretary. Rock Springs was again selected as the convention headquarters for 1930.

To order committing Bradley to the penitentiary had been signed by Judge W. W. McCrory, of the 94th district court, where a plea of guilty was received and the minimum sentence for robbery by assault with firearms was given Bradley. Ellis P. ## SMALL SPEEDBOAT BETTERS FIFTY-NINE-YEAR-OLD RECORD NEW ORLEANS TO ST. LOUIS

ST. LOUIS, July 25.—(P)—Dr. Louis LeRoy's speedboat, the Bogle, docked at St. Louis at 6:35 a. m. today, clipping two hours and 48 minutes off the 59-year-old record of the Robert E. Lee, for a boat trip from New Orleans to St. Louis. The record 1,154 mile trip over the Mississippi river was completed in 87 hours and 31 minutes while the record of the packet Robert E. Lee, made in 1870, was 90 hours and 14 minutes.

Dr. LeRoy ignored one scheduled refueling stop at Chester, Ill., in his dash over the final 50 miles of the stretch to reach the city wharf to set a new mark. The Robert E. Lee's record, which has stood, despite many attempts to better it, was made in a race with the Natchez, which ended July 4, 1870.

The Bogle left New Orleans at 3:04 p. m. Sunday in a race for St. Louis with the yacht Martha Jane, cabin cruiser, but the latter craft was forced to quit at Natchez, Miss., because of motor trouble. Dr. LeRoy's boat was piloted by him with Harvey Brown and Robert Hunter aboard. The Bogle is a small open runabout built of mahogany. It was a gruelling test, despite the advantages of modern river boats over the coal burning type such as was the Robert E. Lee. Dr. Leroy had made two previous attempts to beat the record, and the "Bogle" was able to clip less than three hours off the old mark in a trip beset with adversities.

History records the race between the Robert E. Lee and the Natchez as a race between the "Monarchs of the Mississippi" at that time. Both were large and superb passenger boats and there had been much rivalry between them. Each boat had a large following of backers and feeling grew so high that it was considered a race would be necessary.

Then, on June 30, 1870, while the two boats were lying near one another at New Orleans, the Lee suddenly drew in her bow and backed out a few minutes before the starting time of the Natchez. Everybody knew what it meant, and the Natchez, accepting the challenge also threw off her hawser and backed out.

"Freight" passengers and everything was left behind and the race which had been the talk of river men for months was on. News of the race spread like wild fire and great crowds lined the river banks at towns all along the line. It was a neck and neck race for more than half the distance, but the Lee held the lead and gradually increased it until the finish line was reached. The race and the record stood out as the most brilliant in the history of western steamboating.

CUTTER STEAMING TO ASSISTANCE OF STRANDED STEAMER

SEATTLE, July 25.—(P)—The coast guard cutter Haida today was steaming to the aid of the American Hawaiian steamship company's freighter Golden Forest which called for help yesterday, saying it had been driven ashore on Avatanak Island, one of the Aleutian group.

Radio advices indicated the Golden Forest's crew of 35 was not in danger. The ship ran aground while on her way to meet the cutter Haida to obtain aid for her second officer, who was suffering from blood poisoning. The Golden Forest was on her way to Japan with a general cargo. She is listed as a ship of 5,687 gross tons, captained by L. C. Drewson of Berkeley, Calif.

STATE RURAL AID BILL WAS SIGNED BY MOODY WEDNESDAY

AUSTIN, July 25.—(P)—$5,000,000 rural aid bill was signed, and the resolution proposing a trip of legislators to Washington in an effort to obtain a veterans' bureau hospital for Texas was voted, by Governor Moody yesterday.

He filled without his signature the Vetch bill appropriating $2,500 to rebuild a school building in Cuba common school district, Johnson county, destroyed by a tornado.

The rural aid bill was $500,000 less than the one vetoed by the governor, with all other money bills, at the conclusion of the second called session.

In disapproving the Washington Junket trip the governor said he did not believe Texas should officially, from public funds, send men to Washington to lobby before congress.

How A Traveler Came To The Tomb of Prophet Daniel

In Remote Persia Amidst Ruins of Forgotten Glories of Palaces of World-Conquerors—The Grave of the Godly Hebrew Is a Present-Day Object of Veneration.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

Toward evening, on a hot and difficult day a few days ago, after an adventurous and rather perilous journey, I came to remote Shushan, in old Persia. Columns of travel tales could be written about that one day's colorful experiences; but they were forgotten the moment I had won through and stood on the heap of ruins which had once been the proud palace of Persia's great king. And the first curious object to strike my eye, rising above the flat roofs of the neighboring village of Susa, was a queer conical structure which I was told is the tomb of Daniel.

I had been following the trail of Esther, and not of Daniel. I cannot vouch for the authenticity of the grave, to which both Persian Jews and Persian Moslems make pilgrimage; but I can testify to this evidence of the hold which the personality of Daniel has upon the followers of three faiths. His was a character and a career which stand themselves upon the imagination. His story is one for young people, and for public officials.

An Old "Success" Story
Ours is supposed to be the day of opportunity. It is a common place in the experience of this western world for a laborer to become a railway president; a penniless orphan to rise to the national presidency or premiership; and the sons of adversity to win wealth as that of Daniel, the Hebrew youth who was carried into captivity by Nebuchadnezzar, after his first victory over Jerusalem.

All the odds were against Daniel. He was a friendless exile, of despised race, in a time when the spot of prisoners was frightful. If ever any young person were justified in quitting with, "Oh, what's the use," blamed him for being a failure, he would have dead level of his fellow-prisoners and would have even heard of him.

But since he had the courage to be different, and to be steadfast to his highest convictions, he had the blessing of the prayers of boys and girls, men and women, have sung.

"Dare to be a Daniel,"
Dare to stand alone.
One hero's "Personal Liberty" crowding upon us from the old tales of the olden days, Hebrew captives in Babylon came many messages for our own time. One of the first touches the Younger Generation's pet idea of "self-expression" and "personal liberty." No modern hero more than Daniel, in his own life, than did our brave and brainy hero, Daniel. He broke loose from the popular vogue of conformity to his day's fashions, and found his own fullest self-expression in loyalty to the law of God.

Let us drive a nail right here. Nobody wants to cramp youth. Every older person who has learned anything from the years is eager that the next generation should experience for itself the most abundant life. But history teaches clearly that the fullest possible life may be lifted within the limits of the law of God and the constitution of the nation. These witless anarchists who think that they must violate the commandments, Divine and human, in order to express themselves, are simply running counter to experience. A young man may be his fullest possible self without becoming a law-breaker. Daniel found himself only when he followed the clear precepts of Jehovah. Look around at the greatest personalities on your horizon: are they not the men and women who are true to God and to the country? Within the confines observed by Daniel there is all the "personal liberty" any rational person cares to practice.

The Reward of the First Class.
Promotion come to the fit. That is the law of the schoolroom, of business, and of life. Daniel and his three friends got their great chance at the king's court because they were better qualified than their fellows—though the latter doubtless enviedly called it "luck"—as is the rule today. One of the most difficult aspects of young life for any observer to understand is why so many persons are bent upon being like everybody else and why so few are definitely and intelligently pursuing personal excellence and real individuality. To be the best that is possible to one's powers—surely that is a sensible and basic ambition, and the wisest preparation for life's opportunities. Daniel's experience is a summons to every young person to make ready for the hour of destiny by cultivating personal fitness.

This first class young man cultivated first class friends. It is more than a coincidence that success so often comes to groups. Daniel did not "run with the crowd"; he traveled with congenial companions, who were going his way. Comradship in idealism is one of the happiest experiences of youth. These four Hebrews had in common not only their own noble ambitions for their character and for their careers, but they also were one in simple faith in the God of their fathers. In due time they "stood before kings," because they had walked in reverence before the King of Kings.

A Story From Kentucky.
Daniel's idealism was at bottom religious. He and his friends were a praying band. When a great test came to Daniel, he could call upon his companions to pray for him. Theirs was that deepest fellowship, which had its common meeting place at the throne of God. Daniel's biography cannot be understood except as an experience in faith and prayer. Anybody so new fashioned as to disbelieve in literal answers to prayer, and in a Father God to Whom each of His children is an individual, with personal problems and needs, will get nothing out of this thrilling story.

Happily, most Christians are still old-fashioned believers in prayer. A friend told me a story the other day which points this lesson. He had been recently visiting his aged mother, in Hopkinsville, Ky., and she, anticipating her own death, had been telling him, as a heritage, incidents of God's hand in her life. Among many stories of answered prayer, was this one, dating back to my friend's early infancy.

Hard times made their home with the little family. There were several small children, the youngest, my friend, a babe of but a few weeks. The father was gravely ill, and the mother had to be breadwinner as well as nurse. One night the invalid father's mind wandered, and he became violent. No other family lived near, and the children were not old enough to be sent for aid. Yet their lives, as well as the invalid father's, endangered by the delirious patient.

Helpless, humbly speaking, the young mother turned to her tested Refuge. She laid her plight before the Lord. Then, quieted in spirit, she put a lamp in the window and

Creates Vaccine

DR. W. T. JOHNSON

CORVALLIS, Ore., July 25.—(AP)—A new and simple method of immunizing chickens against chicken pox, one of the major diseases menacing the poultry industry, has been perfected by Dr. W. T. Johnson, poultry veterinarian of the Oregon state college experiment station.

The method is so positive, poultry authorities declare, that losses from the disease are no longer a factor in the poultry industry wherever the process is used.

Heretofore the virus used in vaccinating chickens against chicken pox, and started off, redolent that the skin of the fowl in rather large doses. Egg production was seriously affected.

Johnson's method consists of using a different vaccine, applied merely by pricking the skin of the bird with a needle dipped in the virus. As proof of its power immunized fowls have been severely inoculated with chicken pox germs without contracting the disease.

STUDY MILITARY EXPENDITURES TO BE STARTED SOON

WASHINGTON, July 24.—(AP)—Secretary Good announced today an effort would be made to expedite the study of military expenditures in an effort to apply any reduction which might be effected to the budget to be transmitted to congress early in December.

The war department head said the commission of general staff officers proposed by President Hoover to conduct the survey would be appointed within a few days.

The survey, he added, would be carried out with the view of cutting costs wherever possible without injuring the efficiency of the army and national defense plans.

Mr. Good declared the survey would have as one of its major phases the determination of whether certain activities of the army which have arisen since the world war have not displaced in usefulness and importance other branches of the service. He cited as new activities the national guard, the reserve officers' corps, the citizens' military training camps, the air corps and motorization of army units.

WASHINGTON, July 24.—(AP)—High army officials were started today on a close study of the program of President Hoover for curbing expenditures of the United States for military purposes with the intricate task ahead of them of deciding what branches of the service offer the best opportunities for reductions.

While Secretary Good and General Charles P. Summerall, chief of staff, would not discuss at length the President's proposal, they with other ranking war department officials have lost no time in beginning preparations for survey to be made by the proposed commission of leading army officers within the general staff.

FLOWERS, SHRUBS AND TREES

ROCK GARDENS.
By B. Victor Lundgren
(U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.)
Properties situated where the topography is uneven and on areas having naturalistic vegetation prove likely locations for the establishment of a rock garden.

Owners of such sites are frequently perplexed by having steep slopes which wash badly during heavy rains and upon which grass grows unevenly and is difficult to out. Shade often is also a factor, and there are plants suitable for rock gardens which thrive in locations having limited sunlight.

The establishment of a rock garden also serves at times as a means of disposing of otherwise undesirable rocks. Such material proves effective for use as native stone is recommended rather than a type unusual to the locality. However, a pile of stone built up on an otherwise level area with no reason for its existence is not advocated. A rock garden should fit into its surroundings as a unit in the design.

In the construction of a rock garden one can find no better example than some of the stone outcroppings existing in nature.

After studying examples and photographs, the actual work can begin. Have an abundance of good soil for use in the pockets between the rocks.

Place the stones with weather-beaten faces exposed so the top surfaces slope back into the soil. By placing stones at frequent intervals pockets for plants are formed. Fill these with good soil with which is incorporated one-fourth leaf mold. Firm the soil to exclude all air pockets before doing any planting.

For a choice of plants suitable under such conditions consult the catalogs of plantmen. Many of them, recognizing the popularity of the rock garden, are printing lists of plants suitable for such purposes.

The rock garden not only will prove to be an added attraction to home grounds but it may solve the problem of treating an area unsuited to any other method of beautification. If the site is on a steep bank the projecting stones will stop water from sweeping down the slope, and when plants are established the spot which presented a problem will become a place of beauty.

SLAYER OF WIFE FINALLY DIES OF HIS STAB WOUNDS

FORT WORTH, July 24.—(AP)—A cent after he had killed his wife, William Malloy, 28, met death from self-inflicted wounds as he mumbled:

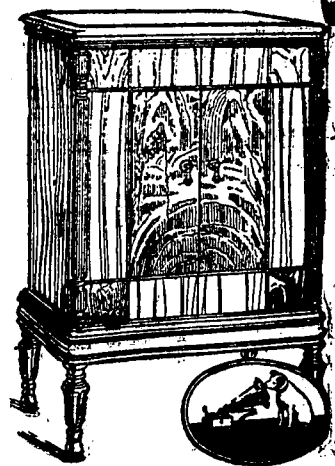

"I wish I could die."
Malloy went to the home of his estranged wife, 28, yesterday to attempt a reconciliation. The two argued, struggled, and Malloy plunged a knife into his young wife's neck before her mother's intervention could save her.

The husband already had cut his own throat. He died later.

Inquest verdict that Malloy stabbed to death his wife and then killed himself was returned by Justice of the Peace Faulkner today.

Mrs. Sallie Stewart, Mrs. Malloy's mother, said the trouble arose when her daughter told her husband she would not return to him. Two children, ages 10 months and three years, survive.

WHEN CHILDREN Need a Laxative

"We have used Theodor's Black-Draught in our family for nineteen years. I have found it of great help in raising my family."
"I have given it to all six of my children. Whenever they complain of upset stomach, or begin to look pale and sickly, I make a tea of Black-Draught and begin giving it to them. In a day or two they are all right."
"I give it to them for constipation, and my husband and I both take it. I always give it for colds in winter, as a sure way to prevent them to keep the system clean."—Mrs. Doahle Terry, 1205 4th Ave., Decatur, Ala.

electrocuted on July 12, the defendant was unharmed and had little to say.

Harrell said executions were conducted as humanely as possible and described the death house and cells. He testified on cross-examination he did not remember the state Leamy was received at the penitentiary and did not recall how many times he had been relieved by the governor.

In answer to the question, "Leamy had approached the death chair to within a few hours, and when you told him he had been relieved again, he did not reply save to say 'I thank you,'" the warden replied "Yes."

Objections from the state stopped Harrell's reply to the question, "You do not believe in capital punishment, do you?"

Lee Taylor, formerly of Georgetown, testified he was an accountant at the penitentiary and had believed Leamy since he was brought to the prison. He said from his conversation he had noticed nothing different from other men in the defendant and said he believed Leamy knew right from wrong. On cross-examination Taylor said he had talked with Leamy only two or three minutes during the last six weeks.

Ranger Light Townsend testified he had known Leamy about three years, and had noticed no difference now than in May, 1928. The Ranger said that when notified of the sanity trial Leamy said, "Boys, I hate to take this rap, but it looks like the last chance." He testified that in his opinion the defendant was sane.

H. E. Moore, secretary to Warden Harrell, charged with duties of reading mail, testified he had read letters by and to Leamy, had known the defendant about three and one-half months; saw and observed him occasionally, and had talked with him. He added that in his opinion the defendant was of sound mind and knows right from wrong and the consequences of murder and knows that he is sentenced to die. Moore identified a letter written to Lee Whaley, of Georgetown as one written by Leamy.

Marvin Johnson of George West, district attorney, said he had known the defendant for some years and testified Leamy had been a frequent visitor in his office. He testified he believed the defendant sane.

On cross examination Johnson said the last time he had had a conversation with the defendant was in February, 1927.

"You do not tell this jury that because the defendant was practicing law in 1925 and 1926 that he could not be insane in July, 1929, do you?" he was asked.

"Lawyers can go crazy, can't they?" Johnson replied as the courtroom roared with laughter.

Alleged Outbreak
By Leahy Denied

GEORGETOWN, July 25.—(P)—Published reports that Harry J. Leahy, at his sanity trial here yesterday, sprang from his chair and told his counsel they were discharged and go home, proved incorrect today.

Leahy, convicted and given the death penalty for the murder of Dr. J. A. Ramsey at Mathis, Texas, suggested that his counsel quit and go home during a conference with his attorneys. Counsel advised the court of his action and asked that he be excluded from the court room. The judge refused to grant the motion.

Three witnesses testified yesterday that Leahy, in their belief, was insane. One of these was Miss Amanda Davidson of Taylor, whose affidavit that he was of unsound mind obtained Leahy a stay of execution. She said she had visited Leahy in his cell frequently and that his conversation was incoherent and illogical and that his actions showed him to be unbalanced.

During Miss Davidson's testimony F. B. Simmons of San Antonio, one of the condemned man's attorneys, declared in an argument that a witness had a right to refute what he called "dirty accusations" of the prosecution. H. N. Graves of Georgetown, special counsel for the state, struck Simmons, shouting, "If the court can't control this map I can." A short fist fight followed.

Leahy's wife, who married him just before his arrest, testified she had not lived with him since, and that she believed him unbalanced mentally.

A. Holcomb, veteran prison guard, also said he believed Leahy was insane.

They were brought here and shot after a courtmartial.

Jimenez's most outstanding exploit was a raid on the city of Leon, largest town in this state, in June, 1928. After looting the place he escaped.

A radio in the home of Mrs. Maggie Davis was put out of commission at the same time.

ICE AND MILK TO BE PURCHASED FOR NEEDY BY LIONS

A varied program was presented at the regular weekly-luncheon meeting of the Lions club Tuesday at noon in the Navarro Hotel, consisting of numbers by talented local musicians and readers. In the business meeting preceding the program, W. P. McCammon placed before the club the appeal issued by the United Charities for funds to purchase milk and ice for the needy and President Taylor appointed a committee to draw up resolutions paying tribute to the deceased member of the club, W. H. Hastings.

At the suggestion of Senator J. H. Woods, the club voted to furnish $25 monthly to purchase ice and milk to be distributed among the needy in Corsicana by the United Charities.

The committee appointed to draw up resolutions of respect for W. H. Hastings is Clyde Stroud, Jim Nick Garitty and Sydney Marks.

Mrs. R. W. Gross, popular local singer, was presented in a group of songs. Singing as an encore "La Paloma" in Spanish. She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Edens Hyndman.

Miss Eleanor Lanham, talented pianist, accompanied by Miss Georgia Ruth Pollock, played a number of classical and popular numbers.

Miss Jewel Albritton read in a very entertaining way two negro dialect selections.

At the conclusion of the program Senator J. H. Woods gave an interesting talk on cotton production pointing out in this connection that the crop in Navarro county was estimated to have been worth over $10,000,000 in 1928 and that the prospects for a greater production in 1929 were very good. It was also stated that the first bale of the 1929 crop was brought into Corsicana Tuesday morning.

Program committees announced by President Taylor for the next three meetings were: For July 30, Roy Layton, P. Meyer, J. S. Murchison; Aug. 6, Roy Christian, Lowry Martin and S. J. Thigpen; Aug. 13, Gabe Goldberg, A. W. Rogers and G. L. Tatum.

Painter Falls Through Ceiling of Eating Place

Considerable excitement was created shortly after noon Wednesday when a painter employed by the Hicks Rubber company stepped on a thin bit of ceiling and fell through into the Nook, a distance of about ten feet.

The place was crowded with people and several narrowly escaped injury. The painter was considerably bruised and suffered a slight scalp wound. He was able to return to his work after medical attention.

LICENSE PLATES OF NAVARRO COUNTY NOW IN MILLIONS

Navarro county's original supply of number plates has been exhausted and a new supply has been received. The new plates bear a serial number in the millions. Mrs. Joe Woods, county tax collector, stated Tuesday morning.

A grand total of 8872 passenger cars have been registered in the county so far this year, and 888 trucks and commercial cars, bringing the grand total of all types far above the 10,000 mark with about five months left for additional registrations. Transfers numbering 2777 have been made during the year.

The new rates on registration fees will be initiated Jan. 1, 1930.

Mrs. Woods stated Tuesday, and will be about 80 per cent of the old rates on passenger cars. Numerous calls are being received each day concerning the two new classifications of commercial cars, but the tax collector stated that she did not have full information concerning the changes in these rates.

All persons desiring information concerning the new commercial car fees are asked to write to Mark Marshall, director of the motor transportation division, Austin, Texas, who will supply all of the desired information.

The original supply of number plates for Navarro county started with 744,451 and were concluded with 794,050; the new series started with the number 1,134,801.

PRESIDENT HOOVER PROCLAIMS TREATY TO RENOUNCE WAR

CONGRATULATED WORLD ON HUMANE ENDEAVOR IN COLORFUL CEREMONY

WASHINGTON, July 24. (AP)—President Hoover today proclaimed effective the Kellogg treaty for the renunciation of war and congratulated "the entire world" upon "this additional instrument of humane endeavor" for the sake of peace.

Ceremonies of imposing simplicity attended the promulgation of the pact. Gathered in the historic east room of the White House were former President Coolidge, former Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg, and the diplomatic representatives of all but two of the nations that have become parties to the treaty.

Delivering a short address, Mr. Hoover asked the guests to convey to their governments the appreciation of the United States that "through their cordial collaboration an act so auspicious for the future happiness of mankind had been brought to pass."

To Be Felt in Future
"I dare predict," he said, "that the influence of the treaty for the future happiness of mankind will be felt in the future. The magnitude of the duty now open to us should spur opportunity and the compelling opportunity that is calculated to impel us to the fulfillment of every duty of this treaty and to extend the policy which it so nobly sets forth."

Mr. Hoover declared he was glad of an opportunity to pay "measured tribute to the statesman whose name the world has properly adopted in its designation of this treaty." To Aristide Briand, French foreign minister, the President said, was due the inception of the successful negotiation of the treaty.

The chief executive also took occasion to felicitate, former President Coolidge for his part in the successful negotiation of the treaty.

"In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed to this declaration of the United States of America in the year of our Lord One Thousand Nine Hundred and Twenty Nine and of the independence of the United States of America the One Hundred and Fifth Fourth."

President Hoover Reads Agreement

WASHINGTON, July 24. (AP)—President Hoover in proclaiming the bringing into force today of the Kellogg-Briand treaty for the renunciation of war said:

"In April 1928 as a result of discussions between our secretary of state of the United States and the minister of foreign affairs of France, the president directed that negotiations be entered into with the nations of the world that they would enter into a binding agreement as follows:

"Article 1—The high contracting parties solemnly declare in the name of their respective peoples that they condemn the use of war for the solution of international controversies, and renounce it as an instrument of national policy in their relations with one another.

"Article 2—The high contracting parties agree that the settlement or solution of all disputes or conflicts of whatever nature or of whatever origin they may be which may arise among them, shall never be sought except by pacific means.

Suggested New Step.
"That was a proposal to the conscience and idealism of civilized nations. It suggested a new step in international law, rich in meaning, pregnant with new ideas in the conduct of world relations. It represented a platform from which there is instant appeal to the public opinion of the world as to specific acts and deeds.

"The magnificent response of the world to these proposals is well indicated by those now signatory to its provisions. Under the terms of the treaty there have been deposited in Washington the ratifications of the 15 signatory nations—that is, Austria, Belgium, Canada, Czechoslovakia, France, Germany, Great Britain, Italy, Irish Free State, Japan, New Zealand, Poland, Union of South Africa, and the United States of America.

"And now this treaty has today become effective also with respect to 31 other countries, the governments of which have deposited with the United States instruments evidencing their definite adherence to the treaty. These countries are Afghanistan, Albania, Austria, Bulgaria, China, Cuba, Denmark, Dominican Republic, Egypt, Estonia, Ethiopia, Finland, Guatemala, Hungary, Iceland, Latvia, Liberia, Lithuania, Netherlands, Nicaragua, Norway, Panama, Portugal, Peru, Rumania, Russia, Kingdom of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes, Siam, Spain, Sweden and Turkey.

Other Nations to Sign
"Moreover, according to information received through diplomatic channels, the instruments of definite adherence of Greece, Honduras, Persia, Switzerland and Venezuela have been fully completed according to their constitutional methods and are now on the way to Washington for deposit.

"I congratulate this assembly, the states it represents, and indeed, the entire world upon the coming into force of this additional instrument of humane endeavor to the way to a new instrument of national policy and to obtain by pacific means alone the settlement of international disputes.

"I am glad of this opportunity to

"And whereas, the said treaty has been duly ratified on the parts of all the high contracting parties and their several instruments of ratification have been deposited with the government of the United States of America, the last on July 24, 1929;

"Now, therefore, be it known that I, Herbert Hoover, president of the United States of America, have caused this said treaty to be made public to the end that the same and every article and clause thereof may be observed and fulfilled with good faith by the United States and the citizens thereof."

"I am glad of this opportunity to
